Bamboo is a micro-investment app with its own token and reward system. It links with your bank account, and makes tiny investments when you spend money.

TechMagic helped Bamboo to re-master legacy code to make it clean and easier-to-improve in future iterations. Also, a lot of third-party integrations were added. We used Node.js, React, AWS, Serverless, and Event-Driven architectures to build a highly-scalable and stable app.

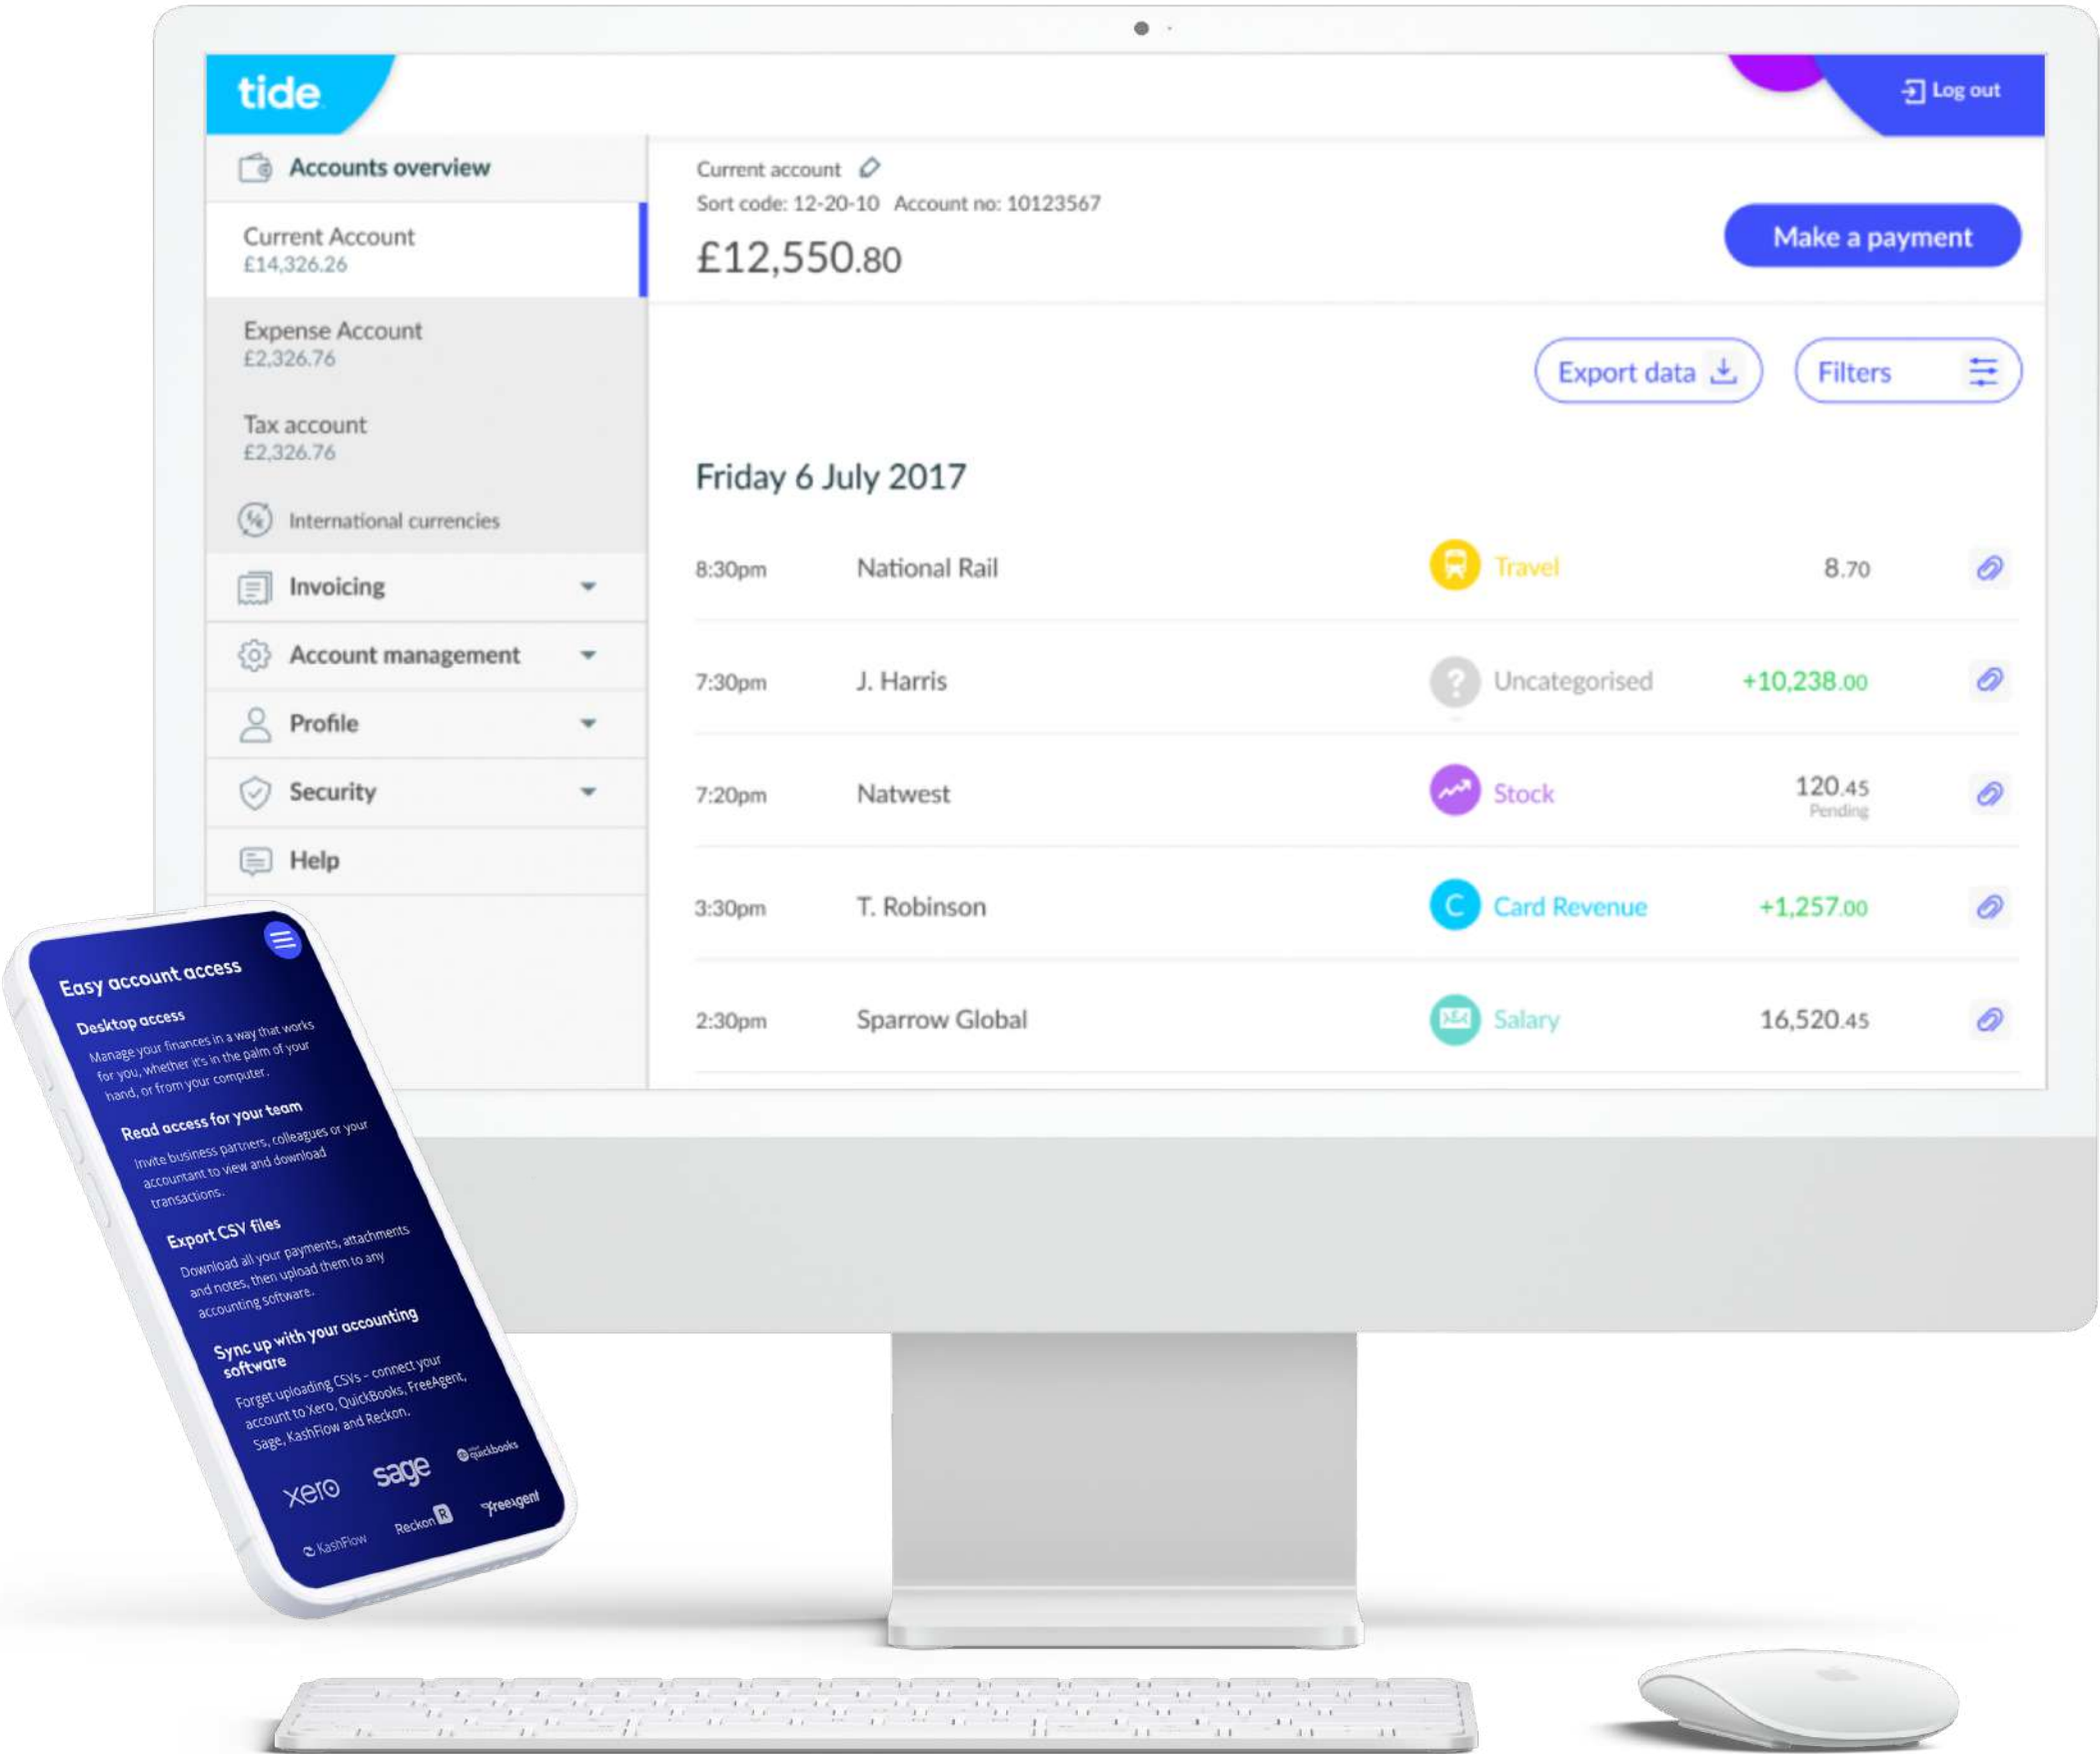

Location

London, UK

Tide is a revolutionary financial services product for small and medium-sized companies. Its users can manage many financial services in one place.

TechMagic team helped Tide Banking to develop its iOS application using Swift technologies. We assembled a dedicated team of iOS developers that cooperated with other teams on the Tide side.
